ABSTRACT

An oxygen gas therapy regulator is provided which is small in size and has particularly uniform output characteristics. The regulator uses five springs evenly spaced around a circle concentric with the axis of the regulator piston thereby providing uniform output characteristics.